The Purpose of Marriage Counseling

Tatay Pastor April 27,2025

Genesis 2:20-24
Matthew 1:17

Marriage Counselling has become mandatory because of the:

-Increase in the number of broken families, which results in a broken society

-Increase in the number of delinquents (young people who commit illegal acts)results to a broken society Increase in the number of delinquents (young people who commit illegal acts)

Most societal issues, if not all, are dealt with within the home.

Godly character and Kingdom Culture should be the motive and guide in the upbringing of the next generation.

A child born into a family lacking Godly guidance may result in:

-Emotional challenges
-Isolation,due to lack of role models/s, and difficulty in having relationships toward other people
-Economic hardships
-Lack of parental supervision and guidance

A broken family is not God's design.

He intends that the created male and female will multiply in quality (GEN. 1:26-28) and in quantity.

There is an urgent call for parents to intentionally engage in raising their children to follow through with God's design for generations.

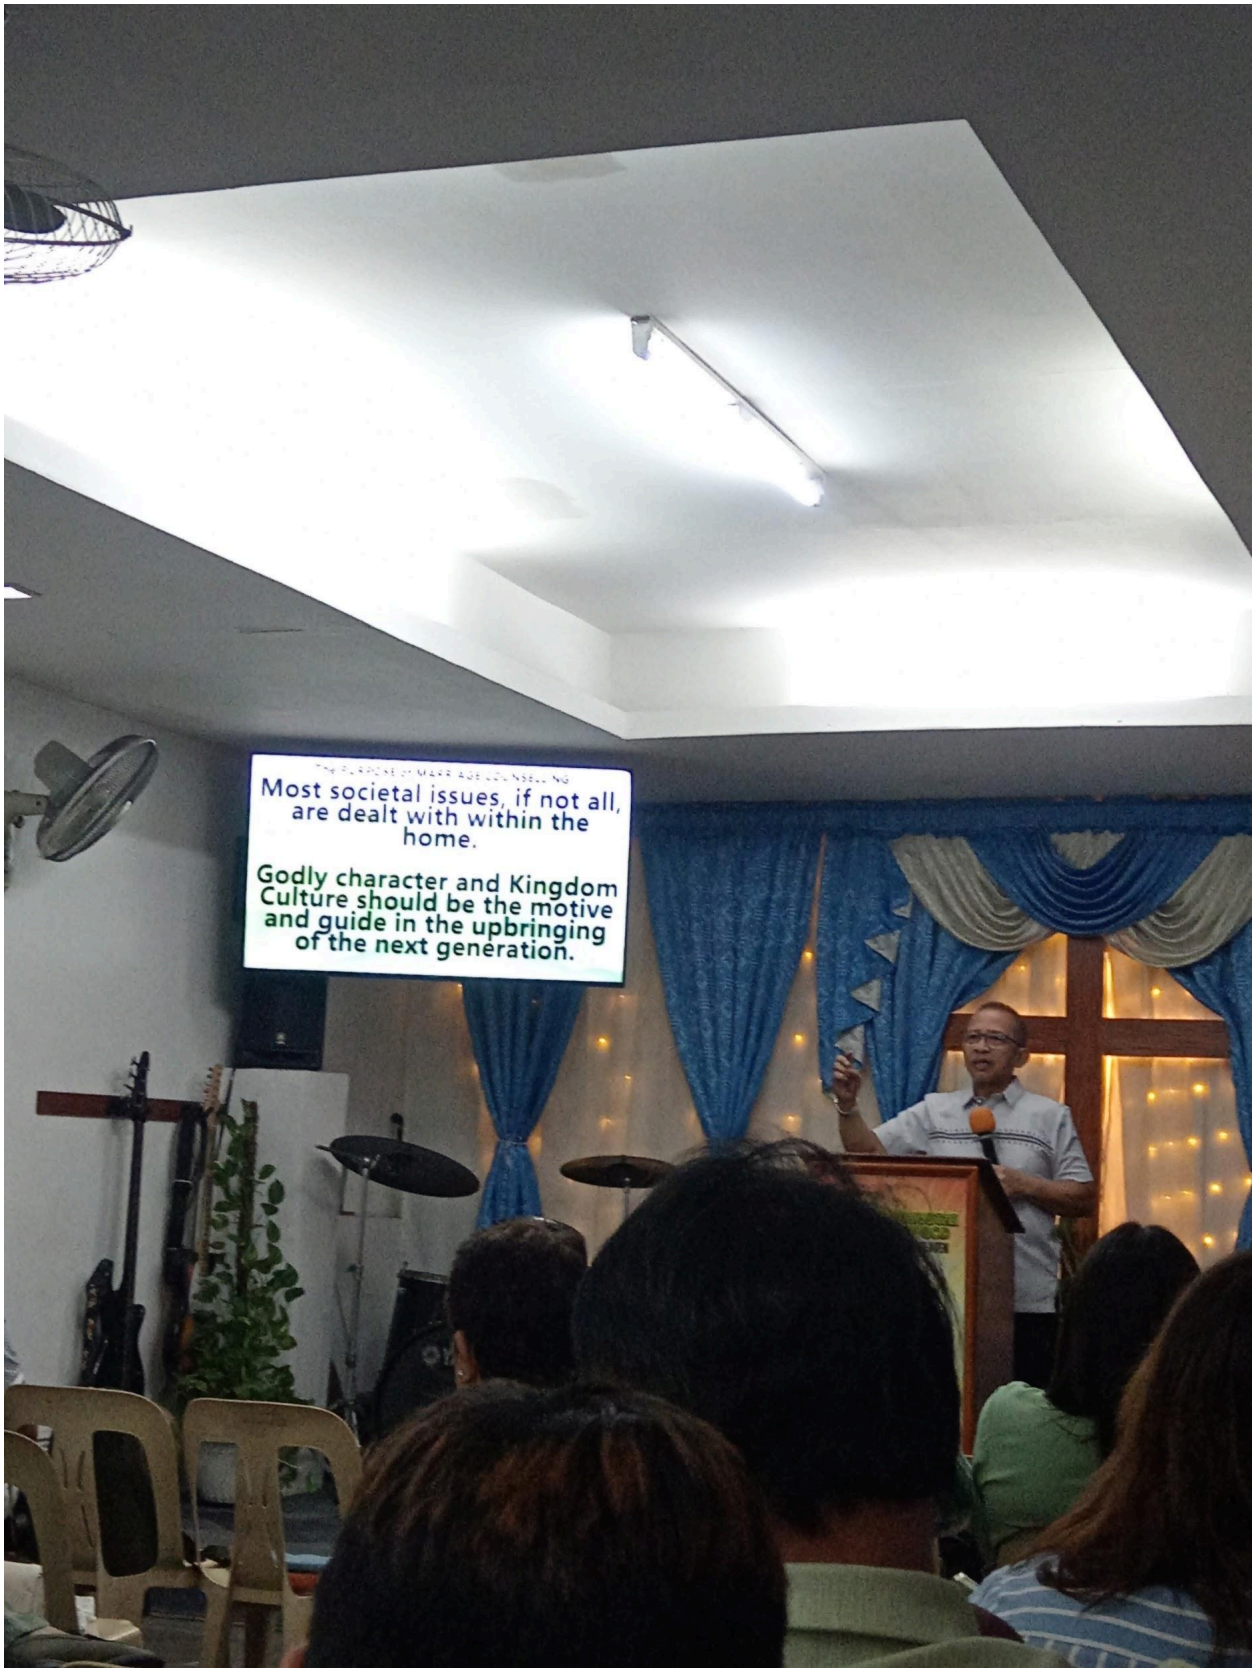

Godly marriage counselling promotes development, primarily in the relationship of both male and female towards the Lord, The Author of Marriage. Further, it develops their relationship with each other.

In general, MARRIAGE COUNSELLING:

1. Deals with relationship issues
2. Improves communication
3. Fosters understanding and empathy
4. Strengthens the relationship
5. Resolves conflict
6. Building a stronger foundation
7. Addresses and personal /individual needs

8. Emphasizes: Marriage is God's big idea.

In general, MARRIAGE COUNSELLING helps couples gain a deeper understanding of each other's perspectives, thoughts, feelings, and so on.

Most societal issues, if not all, are dealt with within the home.
Godly character and Kingdom Culture should be the motive and guide in the upbringing of the next generation.